CITE Interest Essay

CITE classes can be a great blessing to high school students who are academically mature, spiritually inquisitive, and have a high degree of personal responsibility. As part of the application process – and to ensure students are ready for a CITE class - concurrently enrolled high school applicants must write a 1000-1500 word essay addressing the following questions.

1) Why do you want to take a CITE class? 2) Why do you feel prepared for a college-level course? 3) What do you expect to gain from the experience? Essays must be typed and accompany this application form and be addressed to the CITE Board.
